《同步单元AB卷》外研版英语2021-2022年九年级上册期中测在线测验完整版

1. 完型填空
阅读下面短文,掌握其大意,然后从各题所给的 A、B、C 和 D 项中, 选出最佳选项,并在答题卡上将该项涂黑。
A Jungle Story
Once, long ago in the jungle, the animals got together around the watering hole. They were because a new lion had come to live in their part of the jungle. This lion was a terrible bully. The animals met to see how they could the lion. Above them on a tee, a monkey was listening, he started laughing. "Why are you laughing?" asked the animals.
The animals met to see how they could the lion. Above them on a tee, a monkey was listening, he started laughing. "Why are you laughing?" asked the animals. "I am laughing because you all are scared of the lion. I am not afraid of him at all." said the monkey.
This thought of the monkey made the animals laugh. The lion walked up to the animals and roared, "Why are you laughing?" The animals told the lion what the monkey had said.
Then the lion ran up to him and growled, "The animals told me that you said you were not afraid of me at all!" "That is not what I told them. Let's go and see those animals and make sure they know the truth," said the monkey. Together, they started walking down the path towards the watering hole. They had only gone a few steps down the path when the monkey grabbed (抓住) his and cried. "What is wrong with you?" growled the lion. I stepped on a rock. I am afraid that I can't walk," said the monkey, "You have to tell the animals that you are afraid of me," said the lion, "Well, Fould make it if you would let me on your back." said the monkey. The lion agreed and the monkey got on the lion's back and they started walking down the path.
All the animals started to laugh as they saw the monkey on the lion's back. The monkey jumped off the lion's back and into the trees. The laughter of the animals in the lion's ears. He felt So he ran away as quickly as he could and never came back to that part of the jungle again.
[1] A.strange B.happy C.sad D.excited
[2] A.play with B.drive away C.laugh at D.make fun of [3] A.friendly B.clever C.smart D.silly
[4] A.leg B.hand C.head D.face
[5] A.round B.shining C.sharp D.soft [6] A.very B.seldom C.already D.really
[7] A.jump B.ride C.hold D.stand
[8] A.slowly B.hardly C.suddenly D.finally [9] A.rang B.sang C.heard D.sounded
[10] A.sorry B.angry C.frightened D.ashamed
2. 阅读理解
In ancient times, there was a king who loved flowers. His palace was always decorated with beautiful orchids(兰花)and other flowers. As the king grew older, he knew that one day he would have to give up his throne(王位). So he had to find someone to rule the country.
The other day, the king had an idea. He asked his servants to travel to every part of the country and give every citizen a single orchid seed(种子). He then announced that
The other day, the king had an idea. He asked his servants to travel to every part of the country and give every citizen a single orchid seed(种子). He then announced that the person who grew the most beautiful orchid would take his throne.
the person who grew the most beautiful orchid would take his throne. Everyone in the country then got their own seed. One young man named David was especially excited about the news, because he had experience in growing flowers
the person who grew the most beautiful orchid would take his throne. Everyone in the country then got their own seed. One young man named David was especially excited about the news, because he had experience in growing flowers himself. David planted his seed in a pot and put it in a place where it would get lots of sunlight. He watched it carefully every day. But as hard as he tried, his flower
the person who grew the most beautiful orchid would take his throne. Everyone in the country then got their own seed. One young man named David was especially excited about the news, because he had experience in growing flowers himself. David planted his seed in a pot and put it in a place where it would get lots of sunlight. He watched it carefully every day. But as hard as he tried, his flower simply would not grow. Finally, it was time for everyone to give their flowers to the king. David took his empty potto the palace. "Your Majesty(尊敬的陛下), I am sorry
the person who grew the most beautiful orchid would take his throne. Everyone in the country then got their own seed. One young man named David was especially excited about the news, because he had experience in growing flowers himself. David planted his seed in a pot and put it in a place where it would get lots of sunlight. He watched it carefully every day. But as hard as he tried, his flower simply would not grow. Finally, it was time for everyone to give their flowers to the king. David took his empty potto the palace. "Your Majesty(尊敬的陛下), I am sorry to say that I could not grow an orchid. But I hope you can see that I tried my best," he said. The king was moved by David's honesty. Although he did not choose David
the person who grew the most beautiful orchid would take his throne. Everyone in the country then got their own seed. One young man named David was especially excited about the news, because he had experience in growing flowers himself. David planted his seed in a pot and put it in a place where it would get lots of sunlight. He watched it carefully every day. But as hard as he tried, his flower simply would not grow. Finally, it was time for everyone to give their flowers to the king. David took his empty potto the palace. "Your Majesty(尊敬的陛下), I am sorry to say that I could not grow an orchid. But I hope you can see that I tried my best," he said. The king was moved by David's honesty. Although he did not choose David as the new king, he gave David a job as a royal court judge(法官). He helieved that David's honesty would make him the right person to make sure the justice(公正)in the
the person who grew the most beautiful orchid would take his throne. Everyone in the country then got their own seed. One young man named David was especially excited about the news, because he had experience in growing flowers himself. David planted his seed in a pot and put it in a place where it would get lots of sunlight. He watched it carefully every day. But as hard as he tried, his flower simply would not grow. Finally, it was time for everyone to give their flowers to the king. David took his empty potto the palace. "Your Majesty(尊敬的陛下), I am sorry to say that I could not grow an orchid. But I hope you can see that I tried my best," he said. The king was moved by David's honesty. Although he did not choose David as the new king, he gave David a job as a royal court judge(法官). He helieved that David's honesty would make him the right person to make sure the justice(公正)in the country.
the person who grew the most beautiful orchid would take his throne. Everyone in the country then got their own seed. One young man named David was especially excited about the news, because he had experience in growing flowers himself. David planted his seed in a pot and put it in a place where it would get lots of sunlight. He watched it carefully every day. But as hard as he tried, his flower simply would not grow. Finally, it was time for everyone to give their flowers to the king. David took his empty potto the palace. "Your Majesty(尊敬的陛下), I am sorry to say that I could not grow an orchid. But I hope you can see that I tried my best," he said. The king was moved by David's honesty. Although he did not choose David as the new king, he gave David a job as a royal court judge(法官). He helieved that David's honesty would make him the right person to make sure the justice(公正)in the country. 【1】 According to the king's order, who could be the next king?
the person who grew the most beautiful orchid would take his throne. Everyone in the country then got their own seed. One young man named David was especially excited about the news, because he had experience in growing flowers himself. David planted his seed in a pot and put it in a place where it would get lots of sunlight. He watched it carefully every day. But as hard as he tried, his flower simply would not grow. Finally, it was time for everyone to give their flowers to the king. David took his empty potto the palace. "Your Majesty(尊敬的陛下), I am sorry to say that I could not grow an orchid. But I hope you can see that I tried my best," he said. The king was moved by David's honesty. Although he did not choose David as the new king, he gave David a job as a royal court judge(法官). He helieved that David's honesty would make him the right person to make sure the justice(公正)in the country. 【1】 According to the king's order, who could be the next king? A. The man who was the smartest.
the person who grew the most beautiful orchid would take his throne. Everyone in the country then got their own seed. One young man named David was especially excited about the news, because he had experience in growing flowers himself. David planted his seed in a pot and put it in a place where it would get lots of sunlight. He watched it carefully every day. But as hard as he tried, his flower simply would not grow. Finally, it was time for everyone to give their flowers to the king. David took his empty potto the palace. "Your Majesty(尊敬的陛下), I am sorry to say that I could not grow an orchid. But I hope you can see that I tried my best," he said. The king was moved by David's honesty. Although he did not choose David as the new king, he gave David a job as a royal court judge(法官). He helieved that David's honesty would make him the right person to make sure the justice(公正)in the country. 【1】 According to the king's order, who could be the next king? A. The man who was the most honest,
the person who grew the most beautiful orchid would take his throne. Everyone in the country then got their own seed. One young man named David was especially excited about the news, because he had experience in growing flowers himself. David planted his seed in a pot and put it in a place where it would get lots of sunlight. He watched it carefully every day. But as hard as he tried, his flower simply would not grow. Finally, it was time for everyone to give their flowers to the king. David took his empty potto the palace. "Your Majesty(尊敬的陛下), I am sorry to say that I could not grow an orchid. But I hope you can see that I tried my best," he said. The king was moved by David's honesty. Although he did not choose David as the new king, he gave David a job as a royal court judge(法官). He helieved that David's honesty would make him the right person to make sure the justice(公正)in the country. 【1】 According to the king's order, who could be the next king? A. The man who was the most bonest, C. The man who could plant the best seed.
the person who grew the most beautiful orchid would take his throne. Everyone in the country then got their own seed. One young man named David was especially excited about the news, because he had experience in growing flowers himself. David planted his seed in a pot and put it in a place where it would get lots of sunlight. He watched it carefully every day. But as hard as he tried, his flower simply would not grow. Finally, it was time for everyone to give their flowers to the king. David took his empty potto the palace. "Your Majesty(尊敬的陛下), I am sorry to say that I could not grow an orchid. But I hope you can see that I tried my best," he said. The king was moved by David's honesty. Although he did not choose David as the new king, he gave David a job as a royal court judge(法官). He helieved that David's honesty would make him the right person to make sure the justice(公正)in the country. 【1】 According to the king's order, who could be the next king? A. The man who was the most bonest, C. The man who could plant the best seed. D. The man who could grow the most beautiful orchid.
the person who grew the most beautiful orchid would take his throne. Everyone in the country then got their own seed. One young man named David was especially excited about the news, because he had experience in growing flowers himself. David planted his seed in a pot and put it in a place where it would get lots of sunlight. He watched it carefully every day. But as hard as he tried, his flower simply would not grow. Finally, it was time for everyone to give their flowers to the king. David took his empty potto the palace. "Your Majesty(尊敬的陛下), I am sorry to say that I could not grow an orchid. But I hope you can see that I tried my best," he said. The king was moved by David's honesty. Although he did not choose David as the new king, he gave David a job as a royal court judge(法官). He helieved that David's honesty would make him the right person to make sure the justice(公正)in the country. 【1】 According to the king's order, who could be the next king? A. The man who was the smartest. B. The man who was the smartest. B. The man who was the most bonest, C. The man who could grow the most beautiful orchid. [2】 What do we know about David?
the person who grew the most beautiful orchid would take his throne. Everyone in the country then got their own seed. One young man named David was especially excited about the news, because he had experience in growing flowers himself. David planted his seed in a pot and put it in a place where it would get lots of sunlight. He watched it carefully every day. But as hard as he tried, his flower simply would not grow. Finally, it was time for everyone to give their flowers to the king. David took his empty potto the palace. "Your Majesty(尊敬的陛下), I am sorry to say that I could not grow an orchid. But I hope you can see that I tried my best," he said. The king was moved by David's honesty. Although he did not choose David as the new king, he gave David a job as a royal court judge(法官). He helieved that David's honesty would make him the right person to make sure the justice(公正)in the country. 【1】 According to the king's order, who could be the next king? A. The man who was the most bonest, C. The man who was the most bonest, C. The man who could grant the best seed. D. The man who could grow the most beautiful orchid. 【2】 What do we know about David? A. He told a joke to the king. B. He failed to grow the king's orchid.
the person who grew the most beautiful orchid would take his throne. Everyone in the country then got their own seed. One young man named David was especially excited about the news, because he had experience in growing flowers himself. David planted his seed in a pot and put it in a place where it would get lots of sunlight. He watched it carefully every day. But as hard as he tried, his flower simply would not grow. Finally, it was time for everyone to give their flowers to the king. David took his empty potto the palace. "Your Majesty(尊敬的陛下), I am sorry to say that I could not grow an orchid. But I hope you can see that I tried my best," he said. The king was moved by David's honesty. Although he did not choose David as the new king, he gave David a job as a royal court judge(法官). He helieved that David's honesty would make him the right person to make sure the justice(公正)in the country. 【1】 According to the king's order, who could be the next king? A. The man who was the smartest. B. The man who was the most bonest, C. The man who could plant the best seed. D. The man who could grow the most beautiful orchid. 【2】 What do we know about David? A. He told a joke to the king. B. He failed to grow the king's orchid. C. He was good at growing orchids. D. He was chosen to be the next king.
the person who grew the most beautiful orchid would take his throne. Everyone in the country then got their own seed. One young man named David was especially excited about the news, because he had experience in growing flowers himself. David planted his seed in a pot and put it in a place where it would get lots of sunlight. He watched it carefully every day. But as hard as he tried, his flower simply would not grow. Finally, it was time for everyone to give their flowers to the king. David took his empty potto the palace. "Your Majesty(尊敬的陛下), I am sorry to say that I could not grow an orchid. But I hope you can see that I tried my best," he said. The king was moved by David's honesty. Although he did not choose David as the new king, he gave David a job as a royal court judge(法官). He helieved that David's honesty would make him the right person to make sure the justice(公正) in the country. 【1】 According to the king's order, who could be the next king? A. The man who was the most honest, C. The man who was the most honest, C. The man who could plant the best seed. D. The man who could grow the most beautiful orchid. 【2】 What do we know about David? A. He fold a joke to the king. B. He failed to grow the king's orchid. C. He was good at growing orchids. D. He was chosen to be the next king. 【3】 What does the underlined word "it" refers to in Paragraph 4?
the person who grew the most beautiful orchid would take his throne. Everyone in the country then got their own seed. One young man named David was especially excited about the news, because he had experience in growing flowers himself. David planted his seed in a pot and put it in a place where it would get lots of sunlight. He watched it carefully every day. But as hard as he tried, his flower simply would not grow. Finally, it was time for everyone to give their flowers to the king. David took his empty potto the palace. "Your Majesty(尊敬的陛下), I am sorry to say that I could not grow an orchid. But I hope you can see that I tried my best," he said. The king was moved by David's honesty. Although he did not choose David as the new king, he gave David a job as a royal court judge(法官). He helieved that David's honesty would make him the right person to make sure the justice(公正)in the country. 【1】 According to the king's order, who could be the next king? A. The man who was the smartest. B. The man who was the most bonest, C. The man who could plant the best seed. D. The man who could grow the most beautiful orchid. 【2】 What do we know about David? A. He told a joke to the king. B. He failed to grow the king's orchid. C. He was good at growing orchids. D. He was chosen to be the next king.
the person who grew the most beautiful orchid would take his throne. Everyone in the country then got their own seed. One young man named David was especially excited about the news, because he had experience in growing flowers himself. David planted his seed in a pot and put it in a place where it would get lots of sunlight. He watched it carefully every day. But as hard as he tried, his flower simply would not grow. Finally, it was time for everyone to give their flowers to the king. David took his empty potto the palace. "Your Majesty(尊敬的陛下), I am sorry to say that I could not grow an orchid. But I hope you can see that I tried by best," he said. The king was moved by David's honesty. Although he did not choose David as the new king, he gave David a job as a royal court judge(法官). He helieved that David's honesty would make him the right person to make sure the justice(公正) in the country. 【1】 According to the king's order, who could be the next king? A. The man who was the smartest. B. The man who was the most beautiful orchid. 【2】 What do we know about David? A. He told a joke to the king. B. He failed to grow the king's orchid. C. He was good at growing orchids. D. He was chosen to be the next king. 【3】 What does the underlined word "it" refers to in Paragraph 4? A. The pot. B. His flower. C. The seed. D. The sunlight.
the person who grew the most beautiful orchid would take his throne. Everyone in the country then got their own seed. One young man named David was especially excited about the news, because he had experience in growing flowers himself. David planted his seed in a pot and put it in a place where it would get lots of sunlight. He watched it carefully every day. But as hard as he tried, his flower simply would not grow. Finally, it was time for everyone to give their flowers to the king. David took his empty potto the palace. "Your Majesty(尊敬的陛下), I am sorry to say that I could not grow an orchid. But I hope you can see that I tried by best," he said. The king was moved by David's honesty. Although he did not choose David as the new king, he gave David a job as a royal court judge(法官). He helieved that David's honesty would make him the right person to make sure the justice(公正) in the country. 【1】 According to the king's order, who could be the next king? A. The man who was the most bonest, C. The man who could plant the best seed. D. The man who could grow the most beautiful orchid. 【2】 What do we know about David? A. He fold a joke to the king. B. He failed to grow the king's orchid. C. He was good at growing orchids. D. He was chosen to be the next king. 【3】 What does the underlined word "it" refers to in Paragraph 4? A. The pot. B. His flower. C. The seed. D. The sunlight.
the person who grew the most beautiful orchid would take his throne. Everyone in the country then got their own seed. One young man named David was especially excited about the news, because he had experience in growing flowers himself. David planted his seed in a pot and put it in a place where it would get lots of sunlight. He watched it carefully every day. But as hard as he tried, his flower simply would not grow. Finally, it was time for everyone to give their flowers to the king. David took his empty potto the palace. "Your Majesty(尊敬的陛下), I am sorry to say that I could not grow an orchid. But I hope you can see that I tried my best," he said. The king was moved by David's honesty. Although he did not choose David as the new king, he gave David a job as a royal court judge(法官). He helieved that David's honesty would make him the right person to make sure the justice(公正)in the country. 【1】 According to the king's order, who could be the next king? A. The man who was the martest. B. The man who was the most honest, C. The man who could plant the best seed. D. The man who could plant the best seed. L. He was good at growing orchids. D. He was chosen to be the next king. 【2】 What do we know about David? A. He fold a joke to the king. B. He failed to grow the king's orchid. C. He was good at growing orchids. D. He was chosen to be the next king. 【3】 What does the underlined word "it" refers to in Paragraph 4? A. The pot. B. His flower. C. The seed. D. The sunlight. 4.1 What can we learn from the story? A. David was the only winner in the end.
the person who grew the most beautiful orchid would take his throne. Everyone in the country then got their own seed. One young man named David was especially excited about the news, because he had experience in growing flowers himself. David planted his seed in a pot and put it in a place where it would get lots of sunlight. He watched it carefully every day. But as hard as he tried, his flower simply would not grow. Finally, it was time for everyone to give their flowers to the king. David took his empty potto the place. "Your Majesty(導敬的陛下), I am sorry to say that I could not grow an orchid. But I bope you can see that I tried my best," he said. The king was moved by David's honesty. Although he did not choose David as the new king, he gave David a job as a royal court judge(法官). He helieved that David's honesty would make him the right person to make sure the justice(公正)in the country. 【1】 According to the king's order, who could be the next king? A. The man who was the may honest, C. The man who was the may honest, C. The man who could plant the best seed. D. The man who could grow the most beautiful orchid. 【2】 What do we know about David? A. He told a joke to the king. B. He faifed to grow the king's orchid. C. He was good at growing orchids. D. He was chosen to be the next king. 【3】 What does the underlined word "it" refers to in Paragraph 4? A. They pot. B. His flower. C. The seed. D. The sunlight. 【4】 What can we learn from the story? A. David was the only winner in the end. B. It is stupid of the king to choose David as a judge.
the person who grew the most beautiful orchid would take his throne. Everyone in the country then got their own seed. One young man named David was especially excited about the news, because he had experience in growing flowers himself. David planted his seed in a pot and put it in a place where it would get lots of sunlight. He watched it carefully every day. But as hard as he tried, his flower simply would not grow. Finally, it was time for everyone to give their flowers to the king. David took his empty potto the palace. "Your Majesty(尊敬的陛下), I am sorry to say that I could not grow an orchid. But I hope you can see that I tried my best," he said. The king was moved by David's honesty. Although he did not choose David as the new king, he gave David a joh as a royal court judge(法官). He helieved that David's honesty would make him the right person to make sure the justice(公正) in the country. 【1】 According to the king's order, who could be the next king? A. The man who was the smartest. B. The man who was the smartest. C. The man who was the most beautiful orchid. 【2】 What to we know about David? A. He fold a joke to the king. B. He failed to grow the king's orchid. C. He was good at growing orchids. D. He was chosen to be the next king. 【3】 What does the underlined word "it" refers to in Paragraph 4? A. The pot. B. His flower. C. The seed. D. The sunlight. 44】 What can we learn from the story? A. David was the only winner in the end. B. It is stupid of the king to choose David as a judge. C. It is impolite of David to give an empty pot to the palace.
the person who grew the most beautiful orchid would take his throne. Everyone in the country then got their own seed. One young man named David was especially excited about the news, because he had experience in growing flowers himself. David planted his seed in a pot and put it ha place where it would get lots of sunlight. He watched it carefully every day. But as hard as he tried, his flower simply would not grow. Finally, it was time for everyone to give their flowers to the king. David took his empty potto the palace. "Your Majesty(尊敬的陛下), I am sorry to say that I could not grow an orchid. But I hope you can see that I tried my best," he said. The king was moved by David's honesty. Although he did not choose David as the new king, he gave David a job as a royal court judge(法官). He helieved that David's honesty would make him the right person to make sure the justice(公正) in the country. 【1】 According to the king's order, who could be the next king! A. The man who was the smartest. B. The man who was the smartest. B. The man who was the most beautiful orchid. 【2】 What to we know about David? A. He fold a joke to the king. B. He faifed to grow the king's orchid. C. He was good at growing orchids. D. He was chosen to be the next king. 【3】 What does the underlined word "it" refers to in Paragraph 4? A. The pot. B. His flower. C. The seed. D. The sunlight. 41 What can we learn from the story? A. David was the only winner in the end. B. It is stupid of the king to choose David as a judge. C. It is impolite of David to give an empty pot to the palace. D. The king believed honesty was very important for a judge.
the person who grew the most beautiful orchid would take his throne. Everyone in the country then got their own seed. One young man named David was especially excited about the news, because he had experience in growing flowers himself. David planted his seed in a pot and prut it in a place where it would get lots of sunlight. He watched it carefully every day. But as hard as he tried, his flower simply would not grow. Finally, it was time for everone to give their flowers to the king. David took his empty potto the palace. "Your Majesty(尊敬的陛下), I am sorry to say that I could not grow an orchid. But I nope you can see that I tried my best," he said. The king was moved by David's honesty. Although he did not choose David as the new king, he gave David a job as a royal court judge(注音). He helieved that David's honesty would make him the right person to make sure the justice(公正)in the country. 【1】 According to the king's order, who could be the next king? A. The man who was the smartest. B. The man who was the smartest. C. The man who could plant the best seed. D. The man who could plant the best seed. D. The man who could grow the most beautiful orchid. 【2】 What do we know about David? A. He told a joke to the king. B. He failed to grow the king's orchid. C. He was good at growing orchids. D. He was chosen to be the next king. 【3】 What does the underlined word "in" refers to in Paragraph 4? A. The pot. B. His flower. C. The seed. D. The sunlight. [4】 What can we learn from the story? A. David was the only winner in the end. B. It is stupid of the king to choose David as a judge. C. It is impolite of David to give an empty pot to the palace. D. The king believed honesty was very important for a judge. [5] Which of the following is the best title of the passage?
the person who grew the most beautiful orchid would take his throne. Everyone in the country then got their own seed, One young man named David was especially excited about the news, because he had experience in growing flowers himself. David planted his seed in a pot and put it had place where it would get lots of sunlight. He watched it carefully every day. But as hard as he tried, his flower simply would not grow. Finally, it was time for everyone to give their flowers to the king. David took his empty potto the palace. "Your Majesty(捧饭的陛下), I am sorry to say that I could not grow an orchid. But I loop you can see that I tried my best," he said. The king was moved by David's honesty. Although he did not choose David as the new king, he gave David a job as a royal court judge(接管). He helieved that David's honesty would make him the right person to make sure the justice(公正)in the country. I 1) According to the king's order, who could be the next king? A. The man who was the most bonest, C. The man who would plunt the best seed. D. The man who would grow the most beautiful orchid. I 2) What do we know about David? A. He fold a joke to the king. B. He failed to grow the king's orchid. I 3) Why does the underlined word "in" refers to in Paragraph 4? A. The pot. B. His flower. C. The seed. D. The sunlight. I 3) What does the underlined word "in" refers to in Paragraph 4? A. The pot. B. His flower. C. The seed. D. The sunlight. I is is stupid of the king to choose David as a judge. C. It is impolite of David to give an empty pot to the palace. D. The king believed honesty was very important for a judge. I 5) Which of the following is the best title of the passage? A. Honesty Is the Best Policy B. How to Grow Orchids C. Flowers Are the Best Gifts D. It's Very Easy to Grow Orchids
the person who grew the most beautiful orchid would take his throne. Everyone in the country then got their own seed. One young man named David was especially excited about the news, because he had experience in growing flowers himself. David planted his seed in a pot and put it in a place where it would get lots of sunlight. He watched it carefully every day. But as hard as he tried, his flower simply would not grow. Finally, it was time for everyone to give their flowers by the king. David took his empty potto the palace. "Your Majesty(尊敬的陛下), I am sorry to say that I could not grow an orchid. But I hope you can see that I tried my best," he said. The king was moved by David's honesty. Although he did not choose David as the new king, he gave David a joh as a royal court judge(法官). He helieved that David's honesty would make him the right person to make sure the justice(公正) in the country. [1] According to the king's order, who could be the next king? A. The man who was the snartest. B. The man who was the snartest. B. The man who could plant the best seed. D. The man, who could plant the best seed. D. The man who was the most beautiful orchid. [2] What does the underlined word "in" refers to in Paragraph 4? A. The yold a joke to the king. B. He failed to grow the king's orchid. C. He was good at growing orchids. D. He was chosen to be the next king. [3] What does the underlined word "in" refers to in Paragraph 4? A. The pol. B. His flower. C. The seed. D. The sunlight. [44] What can we learn from the story? A. David was the only winner in the end. B. It is stupid of the king to choose David as a judge. C. It is impolite of David to give an empty pot to the palace. D. The king believed honesty was very important for a judge. [5] Which of the following is the best title of the passage? A. Honesty Is the Best Policy B. How to Grow Orchids

At the moment of 9:43 a.m., on Tuesday, June 23rd, 2020, at the Xichang Satellite Launch Center(卫星发射中心) in Sichuan Province, the last satellite of the thirdgeneration network(第三代导航系统) was sent into space. It is the 55th member in the family of BeiDou. It belongs to China's Beidou Navigation Satellite System(BDS 北斗卫星导航系统). So far, 59 satellites, including the first four test ones, have been launched from Xichang. With the development of China, we have already owned three other famous satellitle launch centers — Jiuquan, Taiyuan and Wenchang.

After a period of tests in space, this new satellite has started to work with other Beidou satellites together. It is designed to work for at least 12 years. So far, China has completed the third-generation network of China's BDS. It was a new milestone in the nation's space research work. The launch showed our country has completed our largest space-based system. It's one of four global(全球的) navigation networks, including the United States' GPS, Russia's GLONASS and the European Union's Galileo.

BDS has been widely used as public resources(资源) in our daily life. It has been shared by the whole world. It will provide more services around the world. BDS is the