

2022福建高二上学期人教版(2022)高中英语月考试卷

1.

There are many amazing places to visit in England.

The first place that you shouldn't miss in England is London. The British Museum, which you can visit free of charge, has millions of exhibits featuring ancient Egyptian, Greek and Roman artifacts. Another popular free place is the British Library and its collection of original manuscripts (原稿). The Changing of the Guard takes place at all the Royal Palaces with the most famous one of course being Buckingham Palace. But if the crowd there is too huge, you can check out a smaller ceremony at St James' s Palace. With all the money you've saved, why not take a ride on the London Eye for the finest views in all of London?

The Lake District is the mountainous, northwest realm of England. in this area, you'll find some of England's highest mountains and its deepest and longest lakes. Here you can reconnect with nature while spending nights camping under the stars. If you prefer a more leisurely pace, you can explore the area's nature reserves and historic homes by yourself. For the cultural tourists, there are summer theater performances and creative arts festivals.

Oxford is best known for is university, one of the leading universities in the world. Oxford is also a vast architectural museum which dates back to the arrival of the Saxons. Begin your treasure hunt with a tour of the university. Many of his university's 11th-entury buildings are open to visitors.

1. When you travel in London, what can you do there?

- A. See many original manuscripts in Buckingham Palace.
- B. Enjoy ancient Roman artifacts in the British Library.
- C. Take a ride on the London Eye for free.
- D. Enter the British Museum for free.

2. The Lake District would attract those fond of ____.

- A. history
- B. science
- C. nature
- D. language

3. Oxford is a better place for tourists to ____.

- A. make a lot of money
- B. enjoy natural beauty
- C. experience country life
- D. appreciate ancient buildings

2.

It was Mother's day morning last year and I was doing my shopping at our local supermarket with my five-year-old son, Tenyson. As we were leaving, we found that only minutes earlier an elderly woman had fallen over at the entrance and had hit her head on the concrete. Her husband was with her, but there was blood everywhere and the woman was embarrassed and clearly in shock. Walking towards the scene, Tenyson became very upset about what had happened to the couple. He said to me, "Mum, its not much fun falling over in front of everyone."

At the front of the supermarket a charity (慈善) group had set up a stand selling cooked sausages and flowers to raise funds. Tenyson suggested that we should buy the lady a flower. "It will make her feel better," he said. I was amazed that