BINGHAM REGIONAL COLLEGE

International Students' Orientation Programme

What is it?

It is a course which will introduce you to the College and to Bingham. It takes place in the week before term starts, from 24th-28th September, but you should plan to arrive in Bingham on 22nd or 23rd September.

Why do we think it is important?

We want you to have the best possible start to your studies and you need to find out about all the opportunities that college life offers. This programme will enable you to get to know the College, its facilities (设备) and services. You will also have the chance to meet staff and students.

How much will it cost?

International students

For those students who do not come from European Union (EU) countries, and who are not used to European culture and customs, the programme is very important and you are strongly advised to attend. Because of this, the cost of the programme, not including accommodation (住宿), is built into your tuition fees (学费).

EU students

EU students are welcome to take part in this programme for a fee of £195, not including accommodation.

Accommodation costs (international and EU students)

If you have booked accommodation for the year ahead (41 weeks), you do not have to pay extra for accommodation during the Orientation Programme.

If you have not booked accommodation in the College, you can ask us to pre-book accommodation for you for one week only (Orientation Programme week) in a hotel with other international students. The cost of accommodation for one week is £165.

Of course, you can arrange your own accommodation for that week in a flat, with friends or a local family.

What is included during the programme?

Meals: lunch and an evening meal are provided as part of the programme, beginning with supper on Sunday 23rd September and finishing with lunch at midday on Friday 28th September. Please note that breakfast is not available.

Information session: including such topics as accommodation, health, religious matters, welfare immigration, study skills, careers and other 'essential information'.

Social activities: including a welcome buffet and a half-day trip round Bingham.

Transport: between your accommodation and the main College campus (校园), where activities will take place.

One early morning, I went into the living room to find my mother reading a thick book called Best Loved Poems to Read Again and Again. My interest was aroused only by the fact that the word "Poems" appeared in big, hot pink letters.

"Is it good?" I asked her.

"Yeah," she answered. "There's one I really like and you'll like it, too." I leaned forward.

"'Patty Poem,'" she read the title. Who is Patty? I wondered. The poem began:

She never puts her toys away,

Just leaves them scattered^② where they lay, ...

②散乱的

The poem was just three short sections. The final one came quickly:

When she grows and gathers poise^③,
I'll miss her hula-hoop^④ noise.
And look in vain^⑤ for scattered toys.

③稳重

④呼啦啦的

⑤徒劳地

And I'll be sad.

A terrible sorrow washed over me. Whoever Patty was, she was a mean girl. Then, the shock.

"It's you, honey," My mother said sadly.

To my mother, the poem revealed a parent's affection when her child grows up and leaves. To me, the "she" in the poem was horror. It was my mama who would be sad.

It was so terrible I burst out crying.

"What's wrong?" my mother asked.

"Oh Mama," I cried. "I don't want to grow up ever!"

She smiled. "Honey, it's okay. You're not growing up anytime soon. And when you do, I'll still love you, okay?"

"Okay," I was still weeping. My panic has gone. But I could not help thinking about that silly poem. After what seemed like a safe amount of time, I read the poem again and was confused. It all fit so well together, like a puzzle. The language was simple, so simple I could plainly understand its meaning, yet it was still beautiful. I was now
