Best Outdoor Activities in Orlando

Kelly Park

Walk into the headwaters of Rock Springs Run, a true Floridian oasis (绿洲) in Kelly Park. Water courses into this natural spring from the bottom and if the sun is just right, you can see just about to the bottom. Kelly Park has camping and hiking and a swimming hole, but the No.1 activity here is a lazy, winding float trip lasting "about three-quarters of a mile and roughly 30 minutes if you don't stop". Bring your own boat or rent one from outside the park.

Orlando Watersports Complex (OWC)

On top of all that exciting lake-borne action, those looking for something exciting can take part in OWC's Aquapark, a group of LEGO-inspired ships with climbing barriers, slides and more that will wear you—and more importantly, your kids—out! No special skills are required, life jackets keep things super safe, and hours of fun are virtually guaranteed. The minimum age for the Aqua park is six and reservations are definitely recommended.

Frontyard Festival

Frontyard Festival runs through May and includes live entertainment, films and even exercise classes all outdoors. Guests get to pick their own socially distant box for up to five people. From that special box, you'll be able to enjoy the show and even order food and drinks from some popular local restaurants. Options include Live & Local Lunch, which is Monday through Friday from 11:30 a.m.-1:30 p.m., where local musicians perform live, and Start Me Up, fitness classes at varying times Monday through Saturday.

Wekiwa Springs State Park

Explore Florida's natural beauty here. Hike through wild, diverse ecosystems, paddle the famous Wekiva River, or camp beneath the stars. Wekiwa Springs State Park offers nature lovers the opportunity to experience a part of Florida that is all too quickly disappearing. Bring your camera, because the wild turkey, black bear, deer, and many species of birds call this park home. Guided tours are available.
