

广东2022年高二英语上学期月考测验无纸试卷

1. 阅读理解

Safety and Security Procedures

Your safety and the security of your personal property are of the primary concern to those of us who welcome you as our guest. We urge you to take advantage of the following suggestions.

GUEST ROOM SECURITY

For additional security, use the deadbolt (插锁) provided on your door and make sure the windows are locked. As an additional precautionary measure, please secure the secondary locks provided. Do not admit anyone to your room without first making identification. A one-way viewer is provided in your door to assist with identification. If there is any doubt about the person's identity, please contact the Front Desk.

SAFETY BOXES

Do not leave money or valuables in your room or vehicle. We provide free safety boxes for you. We are not responsible for items left in room valued over $200.

KEYS

Safeguard your key. Please do not leave it in the door. Do not give your key to others or leave it unattended. Please leave your key at the Front Desk when you check out.

FIRE

Please familiarize yourself with the nearest fire exits. Report fire or smoke to the hotel operator. In the unlikely event of a fire, please move quickly and calmly to the nearest safe exit and leave the building. Avoid the use of the elevator.

【1】What should you do with a suspicious-looking stranger who knocks at your door?

- A.Pretend you are not in the room. B.Send him to the police station.
C.Get in touch with the Front Desk. D.Let him in to make sure of his identity.

【2】Where are you advised to put your valuable things when you go out?

- A.In your cars. B.In the room.
C.At the Front Desk. D.In the free safety box.

【3】What should you do when a fire breaks out according to the passage?

- A.Try your best to put out the fire.
B.Report fire to your leader first.
C.Leave the building through the safe exit.
D.Use the electric lift to leave as fast as possible.

【4】Where might you see these suggestions?

- A.At a gym. B.At a hotel.
C.At a shop. D.At a bank.

2. 阅读理解

My 16-year-old son, Anton, had gone to the local swimming hole. Most kids swam there, and there were plenty of rocks for them to use as safe harbors, so I had no fears for his safety.

Still, the firefighter's first words "You need to come up here to the Stillwater River" made me catch my breath and his follow-up words gave me relief: "Your son is OK."

When I got to the river, I immediately saw the firetruck, ambulance and Anton, wrapped with a towel about his shoulders, sitting quietly on a low platform of the fire engine.

I hurried over to him. "You OK?" I asked.

"Yeah," was all that he said. But my eyes begged for an explanation, I didn't get it from my son, however, who tends to play his cards close to his vest.

The story was this: A woman was being swept under water. Hearing the cries, Anton and his friend Tyler, without hesitation, swam out to her, and brought her safely to shore.

In an age in which the word "hero" is broadcast with abandon and seemingly applied to anyone who make it through the day, I realized the real thing in my son. The teens are stubborn and self-centered, but that didn't mean they have no desire to do good.

Still shocked by my son's daring, I drove him home. Along the way, I tried to dig out some more information from him—